Article 32 bis: Publication and entry into force

- ~~1. European laws and European framework laws adopted in accordance with the legislative procedure shall be signed by the President of the European Parliament and by the President of the Council. In other cases they shall be signed by the President of the Council. European Union laws and European Union framework laws shall be published in the Official Journal of the European Union and shall enter into force on the date specified in them or, in the absence of such a stated date, on the twentieth day following that of their publication.~~
 - ~~2. European regulations of the Commission or of the Council and European decisions which do not specify those to whom they are addressed or which are addressed to all Member States shall be published in the Official Journal of the European Union and shall enter into force on the date specified in them or, in the absence of such a stated date, on the twentieth day following that of their publication.~~
 - ~~3. Other decisions shall be notified to those to whom they are addressed and shall take effect upon such notification.~~

Explanation (if any) :

While we understand the reason behind placing this article in Part One in the name of clarity and transparency, we would like to see this article in its entirety moved to Part Two of the constitutional treaty, where such detail is better placed. This would also serve to keep Part One as simple as possible.

N.B. In moving this article to Part Two, we would also propose to amend paragraph two to read as follows :

« Article 32 bis (2) :

European ~~regulations of the Commission or of the Council and European~~ decisions which do not specify those to whom they are addressed or which are addressed to all Member States and European delegated regulations and European implementing regulations shall be published in the Official Journal of the European Union and shall enter into force on the date specified in them or, in the absence of such a stated date, on the twentieth day following that of their publication. »
